

Could This Happen To You???

If brains are the food of Zombies, then Twinkies are their vitamin pills!

It is a little known fact that although human brains are still the favorite of Zombie cuisine, consumption of Twinkies has been shown to completely stop the degradation of Zombie flesh for up to 2 years in laboratory studies as Twinkies themselves don't decompose. With Hostess going out of business and Twinkies becoming more and more scarce, the mere crinkling of a Twinkie wrapper can trigger a Zombie attack. If you have Twinkies at home, lock them in a safe. Before opening and eating, check all corners and closets, look under the beds, check the cellar and attic, lock all doors and windows.!

Don't Trigger An Apocalypse!
